PRO GLORIA! ARMY LISTS

The Pro Gloria! army lists provide the class rating, number of figures you may choose for the various units within the players armies and are based on historical precedence. The percentages given are representative proportions of that troop type within the various nationalities. The percentages are worked out roughly on a basis of the number squadrons of cavalry (with generally three figures to a squadron) to the number battalions of infantry. Player should use these percentages as a broad guideline when constructing their orders of battle.

Seven Years War armies were composed of Wings that were comprised of brigades of regiments of infantry and cavalry. For war gaming purposes brigades are generally composed of 2-6 battalions of infantry or 2-6 regiments of cavalry. Each Brigade should comprise of all infantry or all cavalry unless a historical precedence exists eg Freicorp Legions. Artillery batteries are not attached to any particular brigade per se and will come under direct command of the Army Commander. The exception to this is the battalion guns that are attached to individual battalions. A standard tabletop army will normally comprise of both cavalry and infantry brigades so the Army Commander will in effect be a Wing Commander.

The breakdown of class type with a 3/4 indicates that the player may choose one of these class ratings for the unit of that type. Eg A player may choose to have a 9 figure Class 4 Austrian Cuirassier unit or a 15 figure Class 3 Austrian Cuirassier unit.

Some armies fighting were comprised of a variety of nationalities and in such cases the individual country lists should be used. Eg use the Austrian Lists for the Austrian contingents in a recreated Rossbach battle.
